

Meet the Bloomsbury editors

We're always interested in hearing from you with new ideas for research and reference volumes as well as books for course use, particularly on social and environmental justice; race; gender; mental health and wellbeing; decolonisation; immigration and refugees; and the ways in which these topics intersect with contemporary issues in education.

Find guidance and resources for submitting a book proposal at bloomsbury.com/academic/submitting-a-proposal

Got a book idea that you'd like editorial feedback on first? Scan the QR code to fill in a quick form, and the most suitable editor will be in touch to discuss your idea further.

Mark Richardson

Publisher, Education

mark.richardson@bloomsbury.com

I'm looking to commission in: Early Childhood; Childhood and Youth Studies; Comparative and International Education; Critical Pedagogy; Philosophy of Education

Ben Piggott

Senior Commissioning Editor, Education

ben.piggott@bloomsbury.com

I'm looking to commission in: ELT and TESOL; Language and Education; Language Arts and Literacy Education; Research Methods; Teacher Education (including Initial Teacher Education)

Alexander Bell

Commissioning Editor, Education

alexander.bell@bloomsbury.com

I'm looking to commission in: Higher Education; Leadership and Management

Browse the full list of areas that we publish in at bloomsbury.com/academic/education

Stay in touch

Sign up to our newsletter at bloomsbury.com/academic-education-newsletter to hear about our latest books and offers, and follow us on X at @BloomsburyAcEd.